Dear Andrew,

I heard that you will visit Taiwan in Mid-June for a week. As your best friend, I would like to introduce some interesting places to you. Temples in Taiwan are the first places that worth visiting. Ma Zhu, for example, is the most symbolic seagoddess who is the god most people believe in. You can take a look at our religious culture. In addition, I know that you enjoy exciting things, so I will take you to Mt. Jade, which is the highest mountain in Taiwan. You will feel very excited during the climbing. Besides, there is a night market near my home, and without a doubt, I will bring you to eat some snacks famous in Taiwan such as stinky tofu. Although it smells bad, it does taste good! There are also other interesting spots you must visit. If you want to experience different things, I will introduce you more. I am looking forward to your arrival! Welcome to Taiwan!

Sincerely,

Stacy
